Washington, D. C.

Gentlemen:

I am enclosing herewith a communication which I received recently from Mr. Al Warden, Sports Editor of the Ogden Standard Examiner. Mr. Warden is anxious to secure the services of Joe Louis as referee in a two night boxing program, sponsored by the Army and Navy Posts of Utah, to be staged in Ogden on June 14 and 15, all expenses of Mr. Louis to be paid.

I will appreciate greatly receiving your advices as to the possibility of fulfilling this request. Kindly return the enclosure with your reply.

Very truly yours,

To: Enlisted Branch, E. M. Section, Adjutant General's Office.

1. Army regulations do not prohibit an enlisted man from engaging in an enterprise as described in the basic. WDBPR has no objection to the use of the picture of Sgt. Joe Louis Barrow on the calendar in question, provided Sgt. Barrow approves, provided that there is no implication of War Department endorsement of the Victory Mutual Life Insurance Company and provided that the calendar in other respects is in accord with policies of the War Department Bureau of Public Relations, as described in copy attached. These policies govern the use of a theme concerning the Army in commercial advertisements.
